Noteworthy Neighbor is returning to Village View in March

Many neighbors are “noteworthy” at University Village! For ten years, Peggy Perry wrote about these remarkable residents, featuring their careers, their community service, their contributions to UVTO, and creative corners of their lives. Then it was someone else’s turn. Carmen Friedman’s “Behind the Scene” was next to appear on the back page of Village View. Finally, Carol Keochekian’s “Resident to Resident” graced the publication for two years, ending in September 2021. Since then, interesting people have continued to move in, and we have a lot of catching up to do!

With pleasure, the Activities Department staff announces the return of Noteworthy Neighbor, beginning in March. Peggy has agreed to pick up her pen – or return to her computer. But she requests your help. There have been few recent opportunities to meet the many new residents who have come to University Village during the pandemic. Other long-time residents have never been featured. If you have met someone we should all know, or if you would like to be interviewed (we’ll never tell!), please give Peggy a call at 4765, or drop a note in box W206.

This is how it works: Any resident is eligible, though traditionally an individual is featured only once – and there have been many! If the “neighbor” is here with a spouse or partner, both will be interviewed and included in the article. Conversations usually take place in the “neighbor’s” home, and last 45 minutes to an hour. The person featured sees and may edit the article in advance – no unwanted surprises. Then we go to print.

So, come on, folks! Call Peggy soon with your suggestion of a Noteworthy Neighbor. We’ll all see the result in the March Village View, or a future edition.

When the Sun Shines

By Gene S.

Must not sunlight played around our days nurture clear our living care?
When so in rays comes play with us to buoy us on through smiles and more?

What brilliant beauty blending flame
A Sun blows down in endless game
Of sparkles, glares, diffusing shares,
Mightily different, though the same.

It plays, it parries, bounces so
Those thrusts and splits it tries.
It’s here, it’s there, it’s everywhere
To show, to burn, to please our eyes

How bountiful a field will seem where spreads that sun’s so welcome gleam!
How peaceful down a quite pool’s reflection down its native stream!

Oh would we not be pressed to choose
More panels near to rest a mind,
Than dappled grove around our shoes revealing wonder pattern kind?

Yet sheltered, shaded kindly place comes friendly too most lifetime days,
As eave time’s lessened quiet rests
Come heal our wear before we raise,

Though chance finds praise in soft good rays when so beams warm from air above
It’s shades which mind us ends of days,
Toward dusk, Near dawn less full, yet love.

For morning’s light is fresh and new “til evening’s show they’re pleased for we Who’ve grown and glowed and moved and more
In comfort sound round where we be.

E’re when the sun has played its game,
Shown wide its share of wholesome needs,
With faith it treads its timely path,
Moves on before good work exceeds.

It parts when leaves have seen their wine,
With birds fed well by light,
To rise again in its sure time
Tomorrow’s morn’s then end of night.
